WASHINGTON, Oct. 13, 1869.

GEN. BELKNAP APPOINTED SECRETARY OF WAR.

It is known that General Sherman accepted the office of Secretary of War only temporarily, or until the President could make a permanent appointment. The President has now appointed Major General Wm. M. Belknap, of Keokuk, Iowa. Major General Belknap is a graduate of Princeton College, New Jersey He served in the army from the first to the last day of the late war. He commanded one of the Division. of the fifteenth army corps in General Sherman's last two campaigns, with great credit to himself and to the entire satisfaction of his superiors. He is about thirty-eight years of age, in excellent health, and is a lawyer by profession. He has already been telegraphed, and will reach Washington in a few days, when General Sherman will formally resign his position as Secretary of War, and General Belknap will enter upon the duties of the office.

WHOLESALE CAPTURE AND DESSRUCTION OF CONTRABAND LIQUORS.

Collector Wilcox and Assessor Furnace, of the Third District of Virginia, report to the department their operations in connection with the suppression of illicit distilleries in that State. Seven counties were visited in twenty-three days, and an area of over two thousand miles traveled. Forty-seven illicit stills, with an aggregate producing capacity of 3,160 gallons per day, were destroyed, 800 gallons of apple brandy were confiscated, and as much more destroyed, for lack of transportation. The distilleries were located either in deep mountain ravines or at the termini of roads seldom traveled by any except parties engaged in the fraudulent business.

A PRESIDENTIAL PARTY.

President Grant, Gen. Sherman, Postmaster Gen. Crestwell, Secretary Cox and Gen. Horace Capron, will leave Washington to-morrow at seven o'clock. They will be joined by a committee at the Relay House, which will escort them to Monocacy Junction, where the President and party will be received by a Committee, and under its escort proceed to the Frederick Depot, and thence to the grounds of the Agricultural Society. The visitors will remain in Frederick until Friday morning, and then proceed by carriages to visit the battle fields of South Mountain and Antietam, returning here the same evening.

BANK REPORTS.

The Comptroller of the Currency today notified the National banks to forward to him the usual report of their ondition at the close of business on Saturday, October 9th.

A COLORED MAN LYNCHED.

A colored man, who committed an outrage on a young lady school teacher, near Fort Washington, was taken forcibly from the custody of the officers, on Monday, by a party of twenty masked men, and hung to a tree.

LOUISVILLE.

Commercial Convention — Interesting Proceedings.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

LOUISVILLE, October 13.—The Convention met at a quarter of ten o'clock, with a full attendance of delegates and spectators, including a large number of ladies. After prayer by Rev. A. H. Platt the Convention proceeded to business. The committee reported on general organization, together with a recommendation as to the organization and order of business, the subjects thereof as follows:

Order of Business—The Committee recommended that the Convention appoint the following Standing Committees, each to be composed of one member from each State represented, and each Committee to select its own Chairman, and that each Committee be as follows: First, on Southern Pacific railroad; Second, on railroads generally; Third, on direct trade with Europe; Fourth, emigration; Fifth finance and banking; Sixth, on manufactures and mining; Seventh, on Mississippi levees and improvements; Eight, on river navigation, canals and other improvements; Tenth, on agriculture; Eleventh, on continuous water line communications between the Mississippi river and the Atlantic seaboard; Twelfth, on the removal of obstructions to a cheap and easy outlet through the Mississippi and Gulf; Thirteenth, on imports.

Other resolutions were reported as to representation in the Convention and to facilitate its business.

On motion of Mr. Hillard, the subject of protection of labor and reduction of taxation, was made an order of business.

For Vice Presidents of the Convention the Committee recommend the following gentlemen:

Alabama, Robert M. Patton; Arkansas, George E. Dodge; Delaware, James Bradford; Florida, J. J Williams; Georgia, Thomas Hardman; Indiana, G. F. Cookerly; Illinois, Jesse M. Richards: Iowa, George W. Jones; Kansas, John A. Haldeman; Kentucky, Charles Anderson; Louisiana, Paul O. Herbert; Minnesota, Eugene Underwood; Mississippi, G. A. Sykes; Missouri, Adolph Miner; Maryland, P. P. Pendleton; Massachusetts, George W. Bush; New Jersey, David Kearn; New York. Thomas G Alvord; North Carolina, W. F. Beasly; Ohio, R. M. Bishop; Pennsylvania, Geo. H. Thurston; Rhode Island, A. S. Walcott; Tennessee, N. B. Forest; Texas, F. R. Labbock; Virginia, Wyndham Robertson; Wisconsin, John Nazro; West Virginia, Benjamin W. Smith.

The Committee further rocommend that Charles M. Thurston, of Louisville, temporary Secretary, be made permanent Secretary, and that W. R. Bowers, of Michigan, and E. A. James, of Tennessee, be appointed Reading Clerks thereof. They also recommend that the following gentlemen be appointed as additional Secretaries of the Convention: G. H. Wilcox, James B. Miles, George A. Stone, R. B. Borroughs, W. A. Martin, G. H. Oberly, P. F. Tomax, H. Foote, F. Dalhoud, Grant Hunt, K. Williams, F. Spead, H. McCoy, S. Bacon, William Schmoul, Jr., John Tracy, J. A. Fiano, W. S. Stevenson, Lewis Seasongoad, Lewis G. Wittenger, Henry Tiypett, T. J. Campbell, J. C. Armtead, W. C. Kittaridge, J. R. Goodrich, J. M. Causland.

The committee offer for your adoption the following regulations:

First—That each delegate be required to announce to the Convention, and to the secretaries thereof, the chairman of such delegation, and that all resolutions. after being read, shall be referred to an appropriate committee, without debate.

Second—That all votes shall be per capita, except when a division shall be called for, when each State shall have one vote for each Senator and Representative to Congress to which the State is entitled—provided, that when a State is not fully represented, no delegate therefrom shall be allowed to cast more than one vote.

Third—That no delegate shall speak over five minutes at a time, and but once on the same subject, except with the consent of the Convention, the Chairman of Committee being allowed ten minutes.

Fourth—That the Chairman of each delegation shall each morning, immediately after calling the Convention to order, suggest such corrections as may be necessary as to his delegation.

Fifth—The Convention shall meet at 10 o'clock each morning, and adjourn at 3 P. M.

Sixth—That all State delegations shall sit together, and only delegates shall be admitted to the floor, unless otherwise specially ordered by the Convention.

Mr. Hilleard, of Georgia, offered an amendment to the report of the Committee, that a Committee on the subject of Labor and Reduction of Taxation, be added. After adopting the amendment offered by Mr. Hilleard, the report of the Committee was adopted.

Chairmen of Standing Committes.—B. D. Williams, Alabama, T. C. Young, Florida, V. A. Gaskill, Georgia, Hamilton Smith, Indiana, J. M. Richards, Illinois, J. H. Richards, Iowa, J. D. Bright, Kentucky, J. A. Halderman, Kansas, Nicholas P. Coleman, Louisiana, S. W. Bush, Massachusetts, H. P. Pendleton, Maryland, Horace Marvel, Mississippi, P. O. Stanard, Missouri, Daniel Noar, New Jersey, Erastus Brooks, New York, Daniel Pierson, Ohio, Mr. Williams, Pennsylvania, J. Clark, South Carolina, W. C. Bryan, Tennessee, D. A. Wells, Texas, Wm. Lamb, Virginia, C. Pomeroy, Vermont.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Convention met at two o'clock. There was a good deal of confusion and very little else at this session. It began to be evident that the Convention would not be entirely harmonious. Very soon after the opening yesterday, and when anything like an important measure came up to-day, there was a disposition on the part of the members to retard business.

Mr. Armstrong, of Louisville, said that there would be a grand procession to-morrow which would be participated in by the merchants, manufacturers, business men and citizens of Louisville generally, and that it would take at least four hours for the procession to pass any given point. He thought that every member of the Convention would like to see the display, and moved that when the meeting adjourns it be till noon to-morrow, (Thursday) and the motion was adopted.

The Secretary then read a list of the standing committees which is too lengthy and unimpertant to be given by telegraph.

Mr. McCandless, of Arkansas, offered the following resolution, which was adopted by a unanimous vote, amid great applause:

Resolved, That this Convention, representing every State in the American Union, deeply sensible of the loss sustained by the whole country in the demise of the late Ex President Franklin Pierce, and sympathizing with his surviving family in their great bereavement, hereby tender to them the profound condolence of the American people.

The Convention then adjourned.

The great American Concert will be given in Miseger Hall to-night. The programme is a good one.

A grand ball is announced to take place in Masonic Temple to-morrow night, which will be the inauguration of the temple after being remodeled.

The Procession to-morrow morning will probably be an immense affair. The leading manufacturers and others who can exhibit their goods and advertise their houses will participate pretty generally.

During the morning session a number of resolutions were offered and referred, among them one by Erastus Brooks, of New York, recognizing the necessity of a tri-weekly line of steamers between this country and the Southern and Northern parts of Europe of sufficient capacity and speed to carry the United States mails, and such passengers as may desired to emigrate form the ports of southern and northern Europe, Also, with a view to procure such relief from the Federal Government as may be necessary for its maintainance; that the Government be memoralized to aid the project, and by direct subsidies or by awarding to the said line the foreign mail contracts; said line of steamers to be built with American capital, and to be manned and officered by American seamen exclusively.

A. P. Clark, of New York, said he had the honor to represent in the Convention the Mediteranean and Oriental Navigation Company of New York, and he wished to read and offer to the Convention, to be placed on the record of the proceedings, a number of letters from our foreign minister, approbating and approving of the establishment of the line which he represented. He asked to submit the following for adoption:

WHEREAS, The Mediterranean and Oriental Steam Navigation Company, of New York, purposes to establish an American line of steamships between Norfolk and other Southern ports, and Cadiz, Marseilles' Venice, Gentea, and other Mediteraanean ports of Southern Europe; and through the Suez canal to the East Indies, whereby the great staple of the South may have direct conveyance to Southern France and Switzerland, and a large immigration be brought by rapid, safe and comfortable means to the States of the Union, of an intelligent class of laborers, accustomed to the culture of cotton, flax and the vine. And whereas, not a single American line of steamers owned by Americans, now plies between the ports of the U. S. and the Southern European ports. And whereas, the establishment of an American line of steamers, manned and officered by citizens of the United States, and sailing under the flag of the Union, will be of immense importance, and will be a powerful engine in restoring our commerce to its former prosperity, and especially of bringing into the South a class of emigrants very essential to her welfare. Therefore be it

Resolved, In view of the combined opposition of powerful foreign steamship lines which now monopolize our foreign commerce, hostile to any American enterprise, that the Convention heartily approve of the objects of the Mediterranean and Oriental Steam Navigation Co., and recommend to the legislation of the Southern States to aid and assist the company by legislation offering a bounty for emigrants introduced into their respective States, said bounty to be paid in State bonds bearing not less than 6 per cent. interest, payable in twenty years, which, together with the postal money accruing for carrying the mails, shall be depostted at such place as may be designated, to form a sinking fund for the benefit of the said company. And further—

Resolved, That this Convention recommend to the United States Congress to aid the company by authorizing the Postmaster General to give to the company the conveyance of the mail to said foreign ports during the corporate existence of said company; also, to endorse its corporation bonds, running twenty years, bearing interest not to exceed six per cent., to an amount equal to the aggregate of said Southern States bonds, and such postal money so deposited and accruing as aforesaid, as a sinking fund for said company.

Mr. Clark asked the reference of his resolutions to the Committee on Foreign Affairs.

Mr. Loch, of Cincinnati, offered the following:

WHEREAS, The Secretary of the Treasury has of late made it a practice to sell part of the gold coin in the Treasury, and with the proceeds thereof has purchased five-twenty bonds at a high premium; and whereas, we consider such proceedings as unjust, impolitic, and a great disturber of legitimate commerce of the whole country. Therefore, be it

Resolved, That the honorable Secretary of the United States Treasury be requested to desist either in selling the reserved gold coin or in buying five-twenty bonds; that it is certainly below the dignity of the United States to go into open market, and sell at a high premium its gold coin for currency, which brings a price below what on its face the United States promises to pay, thus showing to the world that the Government of the United States acknowledges its own currency to be below par, while they also plainly show that gold is designed to be used as a speculative medium. It is also below the dignity of the Republic that the Secretary of the Treasury should buy the five-twenty bonds, for if these five-twenties are redeemable in bonds, the Government should at once redeem at least fifteen million of them, and continue in specie. Such a course would be honorable to pursue, and would have the gratifying effect of bringing the five-twenties up to gold par, and be to the credit of our Government. We could negotiate new loans at three per cent., and call in our six per cent. bonds. If it the sense of the nation that the five twenty bonds are redeemable in currency, why buy them at such a high premium? Let our Government commence at the earliest moment and pay them at the rate of eight millions of dollars per month, in currency—such currency to be a legal tender; also to be receivable at the custom house for foreign imports at about two-thirds payable in gold and one-third in currency. Either of these methods would relieve our commerce and bring us speedily to a specie basis, and relieve the agricultural and manufacturing interests of the country from the mercy of reckless speculators.

Referred to the Committee on Finance.

Gen. Walbridge, of New York, introduced the following resolution and desired to put it immediately on its passage, but the rule of reference to Committee was insisted upon, the Chair concurring:

Resolved, That this Convention heartily approves the recent sale of gold in the city of New York by the general Government and the thanks of this Convention are hereby tendered to the President of the United States for his prompt authority to the Secretary of the Treasury to take such measures as would prevent the extension of a financial crisis, which was already deranging all the channels of trade, and but for such action would have resulted in widespread commercial disaster in every section of our extended country.

Several other resolutions were introduced relating to the Southern Pacific Railroad, direct trade, &c., all of which have been acted upon by the Memphis Convention.

Tennessee Legislature.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NASHVILLE October 13.—The Legislature to day ignored the election of public printer by the last Legislature, and provided for a Convention on the 25th inst. to make a new election. It also resolved to go into an election of a United States Senator on the 19th inst. Johnson is not so strong as he was a week ago, and knowing men assert now that he will be beaten.

Senter's message grows in favor, and his financial views will probably be accepted by the Legislature.

The Conservative papers favor affording this administration the credit of the speedy repudiation of the payment of the interest on the public debt.

Public feeling is cheerful and buoyant at the prospect for the future.

Boston Items.

Hon. John Covode, Chairman of the Republican State Central Committee, has received dispatches from all but nine counties, and without an estimate on good basis for the balance, he says Geary's majority will not be far from 4,000 either way.

OHIO.

CINCINNATI, October 13.—Full returns from Hamilton county show the votes for Hayes, 19,446; for Pendleton, 20,122. Pendleton's majority, 676. The fusion ticket elects two Republican and two Democratic Senators, five Republican and five Democratic Members of the House, and three Republican and three Democratic county officers. The majority of the fusion county and legislative tickets over the regular Republican ticket is from 2,000 to 2,500.

COLUMBUS, October 13.—In sixty-eight counties heard from Hayes' loss on last October was 5,000. Hayes' majority will be about 5,000. Legislature very close.

The Independent Republican members from Hamilton county, according to a Columbus dispatch, will hold the balance of power in the Legislature.

IOWA.

A Des Moines dispatch says the election returns come in very slowly but enough are received to show that the vote of the State is very light, and that the Republican majority will be between 25,000 and 30,000. The Legislature will be almost entirely Republican. The following are the reported Republican majorities in the counties named: Louisa, 600; Washington, 700; Keokuk, 300; Scott, 700; Des Moines, 500; Jones, 800, Linn, 1,500; Minneshink, 800; Polk, 800; Jasper 1,000; Mahaska, 700; Henry, 1,500; Van Buren, 300; Clinton, 700.

SPAIN.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

LONDON, October 13.—The Times this morning has an editorial on Spanish affairs. The writer says he has but little sympathy for and less faith in Spanish Republicanism. The failure of the present government is owing to an unnecessary prolongation of the provisional government, and the attempt to close it up when it has become impossible to do so. There is now no king forthcoming, and it is better to leave the matters as they are. A regency is the only possible scheme. When it is understood that dangerous questions lie dorment, a change in the Government will be indefinetely adjourned. Some steps may now be made towards a concilitation of the two parties. Casellar and Figueras and others are not formidable as adversaries, and may be useful as friends. They are avowed Republicans, but men of order, who might easily regard the regency as a half-way house—less objectionable than a monarchy, and less dangerous than a republic. Prim leans this way, and between him and Castellar a union is possible. A government in which Castellar would represent Freedom and Prim Order and Authority, might offer sufficient guarantees of his honest views and tendencies to satisfy all reasonable people.

MADRID, October 13.—The troops of the garrison of Madrid were reviewed to-day by General Prim.

Government officials declare that the rebellion is dying out, but the Republicans contradict them, and maintain that it is increasing.

THE press of Europe is so much in the hands of Protestants or of "philosophers," that the comments and even the information pertaining to the Ecumenical Council have to be taken warily. The Catholic papers are worse, for they only give and say what is ordered from Rome. The liberal Catholics of Germany are averse to the Council, and the Catholic sovereigns look coldly or suspiciously at all that is being done. The gathering of 900 Cardinals, Patriarchs and Archbishops, Bishops and mitred Abbots will be an imposing sight, but there are many able men who, in the interests of Catholicism, deprecate the proceedings and believe the results will be hurtful. The States, even the most Catholic, are more or less hostile beforehand.

A PEACE ALLIANCE, it is announced by the London News, was entered into between Austria, Prussia, Russia and Great Britain, at the time when the prospect of the speedy death of the French Emperor was believed to be certain. Napoleon, however, recovered, and Lord Clarendon was commissioned to inform the Emperor of the understanding between the great powers and to explain their motiyes. It is also announced that Lord Clarendon will avail himself of the opportunity to inform the Emperor that he will not be allowed to divert attention in France from his domestic policy, by waging war against Prussia. Every effort, it is believed, will be made by the great powers to induce Prussia not to give any provocation to France.

JEFFERSON DAVIS is represented as in much better health than formerly, and as manifesting much sorrow at the news of the death of Ex-President Pierce, whose secretary he was during his entire term as President. Davis's family remains in Europe. He was registered as Jefferson Davis, of Mississippi, and will proceed to that State within a few days.

ANTHONY TROLLOPE received from his English publishers £3,000 for his "He Knew he was Right." It was published in thirty-six parts, at sixpence each. The sale was poor, and it is said in London that if the publishers had given Mr. Trollope £2,000, and then destroyed the MSS., they would have been better off.

OF

Zachary T. Hockenberry.

Confession of Z Taylor, Hockenberry, by his own hand and pen, Butler County, Pa., 1869:

I was born the 21st of March 1848, in county of Butler, State of Pennsylvania. After my mother died my father went to California; when he came home and was at home about a year; he sold the place and went to Texas to see the country. After he sold the place I went to hire with George McCandless, and I lived with him about five years. When I went to live with him, he had three daughters living, and one dead. I always thought more of Annie than any other girl; I believe she is the only girl I ever cared for in particular and yet, I cannot say that I had any particular wish to marry her. Some time before I left McCandless's, I cannot tell the exact time, I got a thought I would take some chance for to disfigure her face in some way. What put that thought in my head I cannot say, nor the motive, unless I did not wish any person to marry her, When I went from McCandless's I went to work for Mr. Daniel Graham. I went to work for him in the spring of 1866; I worked for him two years and a half; when I was with him about a month I seen a way that I could get out at night without them knowing it—that is out of the house; one Sunday night, I got out of the house and went up to McCandless's and went into the house; my intention was for to go the bed where Annie was and with the knife for to disfigure her in some way; when I went into the house I thought I could not do so; the night was so light, for the moon was up and shining bright; I went into the back room and laid a couple of chairs on the bed, and then went on the porch and took a coat that was hanging on a nail and hung it on the door handle, and then wrote a little with a pencil beside the door. I then went down and went into Mr. Graham's house and went to bed. Towards the last of the month of May I got a single barreled pistol which shot cartridges. On Saturday night, I think it was, I went to Mr. McCandless's the same way as the other time. This time I had the pistol; my intention was for to go into the house and for to go to the bed where Annie was, only for to shoot her across the face in such a way as for to disfigure her; when I went to the house I went in and went to the room door; I was afraid if I attempted to shoot her as I wished I might be in danger of killing her; I then shot in the room and left; I afterwards looked for the bullet hole, but could not find it; when I left I went down to Mr. Graham's and got in the house without their knowing and went to bed, when I went to Mr. McCandless's I went out to the back of the garden; I shot off the pistol again and then went to Graham's; Graham's house is a mile and a half from McCandless's house; in a few weeks after this I went up again at night, as before, with the same intention; when I went to the house they had the doors locked; I went to the door that had a window beside it and raised the window and reached in and unlocked the door and went in the room where they were sleeping and went to the bed where Annie was. I put my hand on her face to know how her face was; when I put my hand on her face she moved; I thought she might be awake; I thought then I could not shoot her, as I wished, so I put the pistol over the bed and fired into the wall. I then went to the room door and put in another cartridge into the pistol, by this time they were all awake, of course. I then put my hands to my mouth and made a noise; I then fired off the pistol again and went out. I had on two pairs of stocking, which made no noise in walking. When I went out I went down the road past Oliver Pisor's house. As I went past I shot through a window. I had no spite at any of them. Olivor Pisor is married to an aunt of mine, and George McCandless to a half-sister of my mother. I then went down and got into Graham's house, without them knowing it, and went to bed. Some weeks after this I went up again on Sunday night to Mr. McCandless's, with the same intention. I went on the porch and went to a window and cut off the putty so as for to take out a pane of glass in the middle of the window, so as for to reach in and unfasten the window, for they had the windows fastened down. When I had the pane of glass nearly out I thought I heard a noise, and that some one might be coming to the window who had heard the noise cutting off the putty. I left and went out to the barn. This time I had some matches. I intended if I got in the house, to go to the bed where Annie was, and to light a match so I could see to shoot her across the face, as I wanted so as for to disfigure her as I wanted to, but when I went in the barn I lit a match and set some straw on fire; the straw was in the hay mow. It burned so fast that I had to hurry away. Before I got out of sight it was burning out of the roof. I hurried and got down to Graham's; got into the house withouth them knowing it. All through the summer I went up nearly every Sunday to McCandless' house. I was there on Sunday, and the same Sunday night it was that the barn was burned. I went from McCandless' in the evening to Graham's, and after dark got out and went to McCandless', and the rest you know. They always thought the shooting in the house was done by another person to annoy and bother them. It was that wish I had for to disfigure Annie that caused all the trouble. I was at McCandless' one day—I think the Sunday after I fired the two shots in the house. Annie and Mary told me about some one shooting in the house. The next Sunday, I think it was, I was in the recess, and I thought I would look and see the bullet holes. I looked first and saw the one in the wall, over the bed; the other one was up near the ceiling by the clock; the clock was against the wall by the head of the bed; I don't know if it was in the evening of that day, or on another evening myself and Mary were in the room; we were talking about the shooting; I showed to her the bullet holes; she did not believe they were bullet holes; she thought they were made in the wall by a little boy of her oldest sister's; that he might have got on the bed and made them with a stick. They afterwards, I believe, got a bullet out of the uppermost hole; they thought there were no bullets shot at all, until they got a bullet out of the upper bullet hole, but that the shooting was done to bother them; some length of time after this, one night, I was going up to McCandless's again, with the same intention as before; this time I had an iron bar; I intended for to use the iron bar for to open one of the doors with; the doors was fastened on the inside with a latch; there was an opening under the door; I intended for to put the iron bar under the door and pry it up till the latch came open. As I was going past Oliver Pisor's house, their dog, which was quite cross, came out and appeared as if he was going to bite; when I was before the door I shot at him, as I afterwards found out the bullet went through the door, I went on up to McCandless's but did not go to the house, because the dogs got to barking; Oliver Pisor's house is not far from McCandless's; I thought they might have heard the shot; I then started for Graham's; as I was going past John Stoten's house I shot at one of the windows but missed, and the bullet went above the window, as I afterwards found out; I went then and got into Graham's house without them knowing it. In the fall of the year they were preaching in the Baptist meeting house at night; I thought Annie would be there. After the preaching was over I went on ahead towards McCandless's; I intended for to meet them on the road, and have a handkerchief partly over my face, and when they would be passing get as close as possible to Annie and shoot her across her face so as for to disfigure her; when they went past they were a good many together, and Mary was walking beside Annie, so that I did not know which was Annie; when they went past they did not see me; when they were past I shot off a pistol; awhile before this I got another pistol; after I shot off the pistol I went down to Graham's; after this I do not mind of seeing Annie out at night, but I was all ways watching for a chance to disfigure her in some way; I could not get into the house at night because they got new locks on the doors; as it was my wish for to get her disfigured in some way or the other, I thought of a good many ways; some length of time, it might have been a year after this, I got an old black shawl out of Graham's house; I got it up stairs hanging on a line; I took it out to the barn; it might be there yet for all I know; I put it the last time in the far left-hand corner of the barn floor, between the hay and the weather-boarding. This wish which I had I could not get it out of my mind, although I tried to. It was for that reason I staid with Graham as long as I did; I thought if I was there I could have a better chance some time and in some way, for to disfigure her in some way. I at one time got a piece of cloth, cut a hole through it; it could be put over one's face; the hole was to see through, no one could see one's face when they had it on. I thought if I could see her out some evening from the house a while I could put it on, she could not see my face and I might get a chance and get to her so I could in some way disfigure her; I thought some evening after they would be done milking would be a good time when they would go to the spring house for to put away the milk. I could be at the spring house when they would come over; it was generally Annie and Mary that milked the cows; the garden goes up against the end of the house; there is a little room on the porch next the gardens and a window, so a person in the garden can see into the room on the porch; this room is used for cooking in; I thought I would some evening, after dark, get into the garden and go to the window and with a pistol shoot Annie across the face in such a way as to disfigure her; such as these are the ways I thought to disfigure her after I could not get into the house at night.

I thought at last if I could get her it would be better to marry her than for to cause so much trouble with that one wish to disfigure her; but I never had made any proposals to her, nor asked her to marry me. I never thought of marrying her until I was at Graham's a good length of time; I wrote a couple of letters to her; I could not mind all that was in them now. As I said, I did not mind of seeing Annie out at night after the fall at the Baptist meeting house; nor I did not until April, 1868; I saw her out and went home with her, she asked me it I wrote any more letters; I said I had not; she told me not to write any more, that she was afraid some one might open them; I told her I would write no more; I asked her if I might come up some evening, but she gave me no satisfactory answer. Some time through the summer of 1868 I got a thought that I would go over to McCandless's some Sunday when they would be all away at church, but it seems, always some one stayed at home. I would be disguised, or something that way, I could then disfigure her, and could take anything I wished, such as money or anything. Towards the last of August, one Sunday morning, I took Graham's hatchet out; I took it out above the house, and above the Franklin road, then down the road and over along the road, and put it where I wanted it, I believe Mr. Graham saw me on the road with it. Afterwards I put the hatchet where I wanted it, I afterwards went to the barn and took the black shawl out and then went up stairs and got a few pistols; as I was going out through the gate I went past Jeremiah Lang—he was digging coal at Graham's. He asked me if I would take a walk down the road a piece? I told him I did not feel for walking; then I went to the barn, and then went over to McCandless'. Before I went in the house I saw George McCandless, Mrs. McCandless and Mary McCandless going to church in a wagon; I afterwards saw Nelly Graham, an old woman, an aunt of Mrs. McCandless', out from the house; when she went in I soon went to the house; the first one I saw was Mrs. Graham. Before I went in the house I put on the shawl, and the cloth with the hole to see through, and blackened my hands a little. When I went in I asked Mrs. Graham where the man of the house was; she said he was out at the spring house; I told her to go in the room, for I knew Annie was there; she went in at a door and locked it; I went to go in at another door, but it was locked. Annie must have locked it. I pushed it open and went where Mrs. Graham was; she then opened the door and went out; I then went in where Annie was; I told her I want[ed] of the drawers; she said she [knew] her father had the key; I asked her where her father was; she said he was out somewhere; I told her she had better hurry and tell me where the key was; she then said she would not; I told her that I could break open the drawers; she said she thought there was nothing in the drawers; I went to the drawers and put the hatchet in the drack by the drawer, but could do nothing much that way. I knew where the key was kept; I went and got it; when I was getting it she tried for to keep me from getting it; when I got in I went to the drawer and was going to unlock it; she tried to keep me from doing so. I then thought I had as good a chance to disfigure her as I could wish; I then dropped the key on the floor; I then put a pistol to her face in the way I wanted so as to shoot her across the face, and snapped it, but the pistol would not go off; the pistol shot metal cartridges; I was surprised; it was the first time, I believe, it ever failed to go off; I thought then it was not so ordered for her to be disfigured, as I wished it was. I went away in the evening; said I was going to church; went to the barn and got the gun and went down the road towards the meeting house; when I got about a quarter of a mile my nose got to bleeding. I then went back and put the gun in the barn; when I went in the house some of Graham's asked me why I did not go to church. I said because my nose got to bleeding. The next night, which was the 3d of October, there was preaching at the Baptist meeting house. The meeting house is a mile from Graham's house. I went away in the evening, which was Saturday. I said I was going to church. When I left the house I went out to the barn and got the gun. I went down through Mr. Graham's meadow, then through Jacob Campbell's meadow, then on to a cross road, which goes up past George McCandless's house. When I got on the road I went up past John Stolen's house, and then past where Oliver Pisor used to live, and then to George McCandless's, when I was by McCandless's house I heard some one coming down the road; I then got over the fence and went below the road until the person would pass. It was Isaac Brannon; I thought about this time I heard some one talking outside of the house, and seen a light; I believe the person soon went into the house; in a little while I went down to the house and looked in a window; before this a while the moon rose and was shining bright; when I looked in the window they were eating supper; I saw Annie, she was sitting with the left side of her face to the window, I saw her face plainly and I thought I could easily shoot her across the face the way I wished so as to disfigure her; I then shot through the window, then went down the road a piece and got over into the woods and went across to Graham's; went to the spring-house and got a ladder and put it up against the end of the house by a little door that went up on a porch loft and put the gun in there, and took the ladder to the spring house again. After a while the people were going home from preaching; there came some from the meeting house to Graham's; there was Elizabeth English and her son William and others; I believe they came in a wagon, all of them. When the wagon stopped at the house I went up and helped to put away the horses. After the horses were put away we went in the house and went to bed; after a while, it might have been eleven o'clock. Wm. English slept with me; we slept up stairs; I went upstairs before he did; when he came up he went soon to bed; when he got in bed I went to a window and reached out on the porch loft and got the gun out of the loft; I put it away and went to bed with Wm. English; we talked about nothing in particular.

Wm. English soon went to sleep, before I got to sleep; Mr. Graham came up and said he had bad news to tell; he then said that Annie McCandless was shot dead; I do not know what I then said, for I believed I had missed her altogether when I shot through the window; he said they wanted him for to go up; but that he could not go; that he was not well, but that I had better for to go up; I then went up to Mr. McCandless's; I was there but a little while; I then went back to Graham's and got a horse and went with another person up about five miles along the Franklin road, and told as we went along what had occurred and got back to Gdham's before day light; Mr. Graham said to me as I had not got any sleep that I had better go to bed; I said that I would; as I was going to sleep he said that he thought the person who done that, alluding to what had occurred, could not sleep; I said I thought they could not; when I got in bed Wm. English was sleeping; Wm. English is a grandson of Mr. Graham and his mother is a daughter of Mr. Graham; when I got in bed I soon got to sleep and slept till morning. The next day, which was Sunday, the 4th of October, I felt very bad about what had occurred; it was that wish which caused all the trouble in every way; that wish to disfigure her; after I fired the shot through the window the evening before, it was my impression that I had missed her, and as I have said, it was that one wish I had for to disfigure Annie McCandless, that caused all the trouble in every way; the 4th of October, 1868, I was arrested; and on the 19th of April, 1869, my trial commenced. It continued for a week or ten days, but I never fired that shot on the 3d of last October, with the intention for to kill Annie McCandless. I can say so now, and can say so at the judgment bar of Almighty God, so I would call upon any honest and just man in the county of Butler, or elsewhere; and I would call upon the court that past the sentence; and I would call upon the jury that returned the verdict of murder in the first degree; and I would call upon any one who knows what is right and just, for I call in the behalf of justice, for let it be known I never fired a shot with the intention for to kill Annie McCandless; it may not be believed now, but I believe the time will come when it will be believed; it may be believed but when too late; if I had a wished to kill Annie McCandless, I could have done so; I could have killed her the night I fired the two shots in McCandless's house when no human being but myself knew I was there, but I did not wish to kill her—I can say so now and I can say so at the judgment bar of the Judge of all the earth.

Z. TAYLOR HOCKENBERRY'S HAND AND PENN.

On the 10th of September; 1869, I was sentenced to death; it will be so; I ask forgiveness of all who I have ronged at any time, and in any way; and I am sorry for that wish and inclination which I had for to disfigure Annie McCandless; I am not sorry because I have been sentenced, but because of her; for she was a good girl in every way; and I am thankful to all who have been friends with me. John M. Thompson and Charles McCandless let them know I thank them for all the labors they have done in my behalf; they have been true and faithful unto me, and they have done for me all they could in every way, and Jas. Wilson, who was my guardian when I got into this trouble, he done all he could for me also, and he has been a true and faithful friend; let him remember that I am grateful unto John M. Thompson and Charles McCandless, they was my counsel; let them remmber me hereafter, and know that I am grateful unto them, and unto all. Let them remember that I did not fire the shot for to kill her. I acknowledge that I fired the shot. Let them remember that I did not fire it with the intention for to kill Annie McCandless, for as I have said if I had wished for to kill her I could have done so, but I did not wish for to do so; I could have done so when I was in the house at eight, when no living person but myself knew I was there; as I said before I did not wish to kill her; it was that wish for to disfigure her that caused all the trouble; and if at any time there has been any injustice done to me I do forgive it all, and all remember hereafter that I did not fire that shot with the intention for to kill Annie McCandless.

CONTINUES TO TREAT ALL
private diseases, Syphilis in all its forms, all urinary diseases, and the effects of mercury are completely eradicated; Spermatorrhea or Seminal Weakness and Impotency, resulting from self-abuse or other causes, and which produces some of the following effects, as blotches, bodily weakness, indigestion, consumption, aversion to society, unmanliness, dread of future events, loss of memory, indolence, nocturnal emissions, and finally so prostrating the sexual system as to render marriage unsatisfactory, and therefore imprudent, are permanently cured. Persons afflicted with these or any other delicate, intricate or long standing constitutional complaint should give the Doctor a trial; he never fails.
A particular attention given to all Female complaints, Leucorrhea or Whites, Falling, Inflammation or Ulceration of the Womb, Ovaritis, pruritis, Amenorrhoea, Menorrhagia, Dysmenorrhoea, and sterility or Barrenness, are treated with the greatest success.
It is self-evident that a physician who confines himself exclusively to the study of a certain class of diseases and treats thousands of cases every year must acquire greater skill in that specialty than one in general practice.
The Doctor publishes a medical pamphlet of fifty pages that gives a full exposition of venereal and private diseases, that can be had free at office or by mail for two stamps, in sealed envelopes. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and enabling them to determine the precise nature of their complaints.
The establishment, comprising ten ample rooms, is central. When it is not convenient to visit the city, the Doctor's opinion can be obtained by giving a written statement of the case, and medicines can be forwarded by mail or express. In some instances, however, a personal examination is absolutely necessary, while in others daily personal attention is required, and for the accommodation of such patients there are apartments connected with the office that are provided with every requisite that is calculated to promote recovery, including medicated vapor baths. All prescriptions are prepared in the Doctor's own laboratory, under his personal supervision. Medical pamphlets at office free, or by mail for two stamps. No matter who have failed, read what he says. Hours 9 A.M. to 8 P.M. Sundays 10 A.M. to 2 P.M. Office, No. 9 WYLIE STREET, (near Court House,) Pittsburgh. s

PITTSBURGH LIVE STOCK MARKET.

PENN'A CENTRAL STOCK YARDS, WEDNESDAY, Oct. 13, 1869.

CATTLE.

The receipts, as might have been expected, were unusually light this week, in consequence of many of the western drovers remaining at home to attend the election, and with a good demand and short supply, the market is considerably stronger and compared with last week, prices are a shade higher and all grades are selling more readily. There were but few really good shipping cattle in market and while there were no sales reported above 7½@7¾, we have reason to believe that extra fat steers, if there had have been any such on sale, would have brought 8 cts. Medium and common grades of cattle, also, sold more readily, and, as already intimated, at slightly improved prices, ranging from 5@6 cts.

MONDAY, October 11.—Hedges & Taylor for Nixon to Rambo 16, weighing 13,100.

TUESDAY October 12.—Marker to Heller 39, weighing 36,700, at $50,00 per head: Curtis to Traurman 19, weighing 23,460. at 7,10; Hazlewood & Blackstock for Whitlesey to Hickman 20, weighing 17,950; Holmes, Lafferty & Co; for Tucker to Barker & B. 36, weighing 36,130, at 5⅜; Hedges & Taylor for Chenault to Buch 18, weighing 19,300, at 6¼; Ashbrook to Lamb 32, weighing 44,340, at 7¾, same to same 16, weighing 20,630, at 7½; also, 17 weighing 22,210, at 6½.

WEDNESDAY, October 13.—Hedges & Taylor for Traurman to Kelley 19 weighing 17,420, at 5; Holmes L & Co. for Louthbridge to Hager 16, weighing 21,960, at 7¼; same to same19, weighing 20,340; King to Seitz 21, weighing 29,450, at 5; Hedges & Taylor for Chenault to Hager 30, at 6,75@7,25; Lowenstein to Aull & Co. 19, weighing 18,600, at 5,90; Holmes, L & Co. for Pate to O B Smith 9, weighing 10.370, at 6; same for same to Kelley 9, weighing 10,190, at 6; Crawford & Cameron ty O'Donnell 17, weighing 21,280; Evans to Aull 19, weighing 19,100, at 6 40; Holmes, L & Co. for Pearce to Shriner 16, weighing 11,860, at 4,65; Moore to Kelley 20, weighing 18,690, at 5¼.

SHEEP.

There is also an improved demand for this class of stook; and, as in the case of cattle, the great proportion of the offering were of the common grades. Prime fat sheep are in good demand and that, too, at a slight advance, and the lower grades also, sold more readily. but at about last week's price. We now quote fair to good at 3½@4; prime to extra, 4½@5, and fancy 5¼@5½.

HOGS.

Steady with a continued steady shipping demand and prices are strong and fully sustained. We now quote York hogs at 9½@10 and Philadelphia hogs at 10¾@11, the latter only for assorted lots.

The river continues to recede slowly with about 28 inches in the channel at this point. Weather cloudy and raw—mercury at 4 P. M. 50.

The New State from Wheeling and Belle from Parkersburg, arrived and departed as usual.

Business is very quiet at the landing, and there will be no improvement until there is a rise.

The Glendale is loading for St. Louis to depart on the first rise, and the same is true of the Messenger for New Orleans.

The R. C. Gray from Memphis, is enroute for this port; also the Wild Duck from St. Louis, with 1,200 tons of ore.

—The Liberty No. 4 and barges, are loading at Wheeling for St. Louis.

—Capt. John McAllister has sold the Jonas Powell to Capt. Hardy of Portsmouth.

—The Mollie Ebert passed Marietta on Monday all right, and the Wild Duck passed Evansville the same day.

—The Arkansas, (Capt. A. H. Shaw's boat) after discharging 200 tons of groceries, left Memphis on last Friday.

—The Maggie Hays arrived at St. Louis on Monday, and the Camelia left Cincinnati for the same port on Monday.

—The White River packet Natoma, on her up trip, picked up a snag in White river, near Des Arc, which pierced a small hole in her hull, causing her to take two and a half feet of water, which damaged some of her freight.

—The Memphis Avalanche of Saturday says: Mr. Thomas J. Johnson, a well-known steamboat carpenter and contractor, was married on Thursday night to Miss Virginia Bussy, an accomplished and beautiful young lady.

—The Leavenworth Commercial, of the 6th says that the colored individual who engaged the steamer Tempest to make a trip down the river, undertook to pay $100 for the passage. Everything was in readiness and the black folks on board, when it was found that the subscriptions only amounted to $25. A leading barber of the city then mounted the gangway plank and addressed the crowd, advised them to muster up the balance and allow the steamer to proceed. The company, however, elected to pay only that amount and take it out as far as it would go in dancing, which they did.

MISCELLANEOUS.

PACIFIC RAILWAY GOLD LOAN.

Messrs. DABNEY, MORGAN & CO., 53 Exchange Place, and M. K. JESUP & CO., 12 Pine Street, N. Y., offer for sale the Bonds of the Kansas Pacific Railway. These Bonds pay seven per cent. in Gold; have thirty years to run; are Free from Government Taxation; are secured by a Land Grant of Three Million Acres of the Finest Lands in Kansas and Colorado. In addition to this special grant the Company also owns Three Millions of Acres in Kansas, which are being rapidly sold to develop the country and improve the road. They are a first mortgage upon the extension of the road from Sheridan, Kansas, to Denver, Colorado. The road in operation, 427 miles long, upon which it is also a mortgage, NOW EARNS MORE THAN ENOUGH NET INCOME TO PAY THE INTEREST ON THE NEW LOAN. There is no better security in the market—this being in some respects better than Government Securities. PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST PAYABLE IN GOLD. Price 96, and accrued Interest, in Currency. Pamphlets, Maps and Circulars furnished on application.

We have a full supply of the above Bonds on hand and for sale, and we take pleasure in recommending them as a very reliable and perfectly safe investment.

REPUBLICANS, who incline to carp at the Registry law, may profitably remember an old maxim, "Speak well of the bridge which carries you safe over!"

THE full Republican ticket in Allegheny county has been elected with a single exception of Mr. BOSTWICK, candidate for Commissioner. The party vote out was comparatively small and the majority was whittled down consiserably in the distractions resulting from local contests over minor ward, borough and township elections.

THE Temperance Reform Party has secured the defeat of the Republican candidate for Commissioner, the overthrow of their own and the triumph of Mr. McGee, the Democratic nominee, who has been elected by fully five hundred majority. To the Democracy and liquor men he owes his office, and to say the least, can afford to be saucy and independent. And so much has the movement accomplished!

THE vote on the location of the Soldiers' Monument has resulted in favor of Allegheny City by a handsome majority. Inasmuch as Pittsburgh had no proper site to offer, and our sister city had a splendid place to suggest for the location, there can be no dissatisfaction expressed over the result of the election. The good ladies composing the Monumental Association will heartily acquiesce to the will of the people, and at once set about to secure the early erection of the monument. They have been solicitous to afford satisfaction to those interested in the matter, and congratulate themselves on the final solution of the much vexed question of location.

ARE there two Ex-Presidential Dromios? Have the mistaken types been uniust to a party by the name of Johnson, accrediting his well-known deliverances upon the Constitution to that well-preserved relic of an antediluvian age who still lives to answer to the name of Fillmore? If it was not the Tennessee politician who advised his hearers, in the Louisville Convention, on Tuesday, to stand by the Constitution, it is due to him to protest against the use of his stolen thunder by the gentleman from Buffalo, One thing is quite clear—that A. J. would be quite too anxious for a post mortem reputation to boast of his adhesion to the Fugitive Slave Law.

THE LEGISLATURE.

Of the 21 hold-over Senators, ten are Republican and 11 Democratic. Of the 12 now elected, the Republicans have 9 and the Democrats 3. The full Senate thus stands 19 Republicans to 14 Democrats. This concedes the election of one of the two Democrats running in the Montour district.

In the last House, we had a Republican majority of 22. We have now gained two members in Phiadelphia, and have no reason to suppose that we have lost elsewhere. This gives us 24 majority at least in the next House. We have a chance for gaining another member in Franklin and Perry, and also one in Cumberland.

This is the judgment of the people upon the reiterated accusations of an opposing coalition, against the fidelity and integrity of the last Republican Legislature.

THE OHIO ELECTION.

The Republicans of Ohio have given a slightly increased majority to Governor HAYES and their entire State ticket. The Legislature, which was last year Democratic in both branches, is now in doubt, the better impression being that the Republicans have the Senate with an opposition majority in the House. This body elected for two years, will, on joint ballot, elect a U. S. Senator to succeed Mr. SHERMAN. It is not yet known which party will have the control of that joint convention. It is claimed on both sides. Our dispatches in another column may settle the doubt.

The State Government of Ohio is substantially in its Legislature, and, so far, the campaign has perhaps ended in a drawn battle. This is in effect a defeat for an opposition which has held complete control of the State for two years past.

OUR BRAVE OLD COMMONWEALTH.

The Republicans of Pennsylvania reelect Governor GEARY by a majority which cannot be less than 4,000, and may, upon the corrected and official returns, run as high as 6,000. The corrections will, as we observed yesterday, almost uniformly run in our favor.

HENRY W. WILLIAMS, now a Supreme Justice by Executive appointment, has a triumphant confirmation in his office, by a popular endorsement of at least 10,000 majority. The "mills of the gods grind slow, but exceeding fine." The people have availed themselves of the first opportunity to repair the palpable injustice with which the triumphant frauds of a faction excluded him from this place two years since.

Taken altogether, these results, achieved in the teeth of the most embarrassing obstacles, reflect a higher credit upon the Republicans of Pennsylvania than they had won in any previous canvass since the organization of their party.

THE NEW SECRETARY OF WAR.

Contrary to general anticipation, the position of Secretary of War, made vacant by the death of General Rawlins, has been filled by the appointment of a citizen not of Pennsylvania but of Iowa —Major General WM. M. BELKNAP The recipient of this honor is not unknown to the country. He sustains high reputation as a soldier, lawyer and citizen, and will bring with him to the position a private character unblemished, as well as a large fund of practical business tact and experience. The appointment cannot fail to secure the heartiest satisfaction, and reflects a large degree of credit to the discrimination and judgment of President GRANT. Gen. BELKNAP will at once enter into the discharge of the duties pertaining to the office, having signified his acceptance of the appointment.

A PURE SUFFRAGE.

The Registry law, operating at Tuesday's polls, preserved the Commonwealth from the clutches of a corrupt and vindictive party. It is clear now that a late Chairman of the opposition State Committee delivered himself frankly, and by the book, when he informed a Republican friend, two weeks since, that the Democracy polled twenty-two thousand votes for President in '68, which they would have to do without this year. But for registration, this immense tide of partizan rascality would have again overwhelmed a pure suffrage at last Tuesday's polls, with a destruction, as resistless as that of a tidal wave on a tropical coast. Philadelphia, the anthracite region, and other interior counties which are always Democratic strong holds, would have scored every rascally ticket of Senator Wallace's twenty-two thousand, and perhaps a few thousand more.

On the contrary, this wise safe-guard around the ballot-boxes has pruned down the honest vote of Philadelphia by more than ten thousand, has checkmated the cunning scheme to swamp a clear Republican majority with fraudulent ballots in the anthracite counties, has stopped everywhere the old opposition trick of bogus papers of naturalization, and has so thoroughly purged the hustings, all over the Commonwealth, inside and outside, from the traditional roguery of Democratic politicians, that the year 1869, for the first time in the later history of Pennsylvania, witnesses at last a thoroughly square and upright contest between two great parties.

Never was the need for such wise legislation more amply vindicated!

SOMETHING NEW.

We hear of no fraudulent ballots cast, by virtue of ficticious papers of naturalization, last Tuesday. Nowhere, in the Commonwealth, was seen, and to be deplored, on the eve of the election, the spectacle of a court of justice prostituted into an electioneering engine, and run as a partizan machine in the interests of a faction, and in flagrant defiance of all public decency. No seals have been stolen, or borrowed by smart knaves, when conveniently forgotten in some public place by their lawful custodians—their faithful impressions re-appearing in due time to legalize the cloud of certificates with which Democratic citizens, not a year on American soil, once thronged the hustings in every quarter of the Commonwealth. No drunken and ignorant tip-staves have pocketed four shillings per certificate from the lavish funds of Democratic committees, for the sale of a judicial prerogative, which their superiors may have winked at, all for the good of the party. No legally naturalized citizen of foreign birth has been elbowed away from the polls, by the off-scourings of the prisons of the world, or by the graduates of our own penitentiaries, their pockets full of ballots to be stuffed in the boxes, that Democratic institutions might be patriotically upheld.

In short, every citizen has had his vote, who was entitled to it and chose to cast it, and none other appeared at last Tuesday's polls. Evidently, this is a welcome novelty in our politics. The people may thank a Republican Legislature and a reformed judiciary for the auspicious change. That is all.

MINOR TOPICS.

THE most ridiculous, yet amusing and gorgeous spectacular piece that we ever saw was called "Flick and Flock." It was writen by Raeder, by long odds the greatest of German comedians, and displays more genius, fun and opportunities for magnificent display than all of the "Black Crooks" and "White Fawns" that have ever been produced in this country. Since the epidemic for ballet and burlesque broke loose in America, we have looked in vain for this old friend, but there was too much real fun and talent in it for New York managers to attempt until now, when, mere glitter and tinsel having palled upon the public palate, something of this sort has become necessary. We now see by the New York papers that "Flick and Flock" is to brought out at Woods' Museum. If it is produced in suitable style, it ought to have a run far greater than any of the spectacles that have preceded it.

"THE SECRET OF SWEDENBORG" is the name of a new book just issued. It is said to be a very valuable addition to the rapidly increasing library which this great man and his works have given rise to. Swedenborg, unlike almost all other promulgators of creeds or founders of sects was, independently a great man, and has a class of readers and admirers almost as large as the whole body of believers in his doctrines. Year by year, the opinion of the world places him higher in the great scale of philosophers, year by year, his genius achieves new triumphs outside of his theological doctrines, and at present there are but few philosophical writers who, whether they acknowledge it or not, do not owe much to his writings and genius.

WE have heard, recently, several persons speak seriously of sending for a batch of Chinese to be used as servants and waiters. But there is a good deal of room for doubt as to whether there really is a solution to the great domestic problem to be found in China. Without discussing the availability of the new element we still have this one serious drawback. The Chinese immigrants acquire the English language with difficulty and do not easily understand our language of signs. It is said that in California they go about in gangs with one interpreter at their head who does all the talking, and if this be so their power in the house hold could hardly be regarded as an improvement or a blessing.

IN Boston they have a prohibitory liquor law, In Iowa there is a party trying to get up a prohibitory-tobacco law. The Roman Catholics are credited with a desire to enforce a prohibitary school and Bible law. Hebrews and believers in the ravages of trichines should unite in attempting to procure a prohibitary pork law. Democrats would like to have a prohibity Republican law. With all of these demands working successfully throughout the country, there would remain no necessity at all for the Imperialists to advocate a prohibitory-liberty-law, for that would then be a fairly accomplished success.

THE season for robberies is fast coming round. Overcoats are getting to be a necessary portion of a man's wardrobe, and the sneak-thieves are taking advantage of that fact. A new overcoat is a good thing for a sneak-thief to have, because he incurs so little risk in either wearing or selling it. The moral of all this is, look well to your night-latches, and do not leave your doors open.

THE Salt Lake Telegraph, owned by the champion marryist of Utah, complains that the United States Judges have refused naturalization papers to those who would not say, when questioned, that they were not polygamists, or not in favor of the system. If the candidate tor naturalization refused to answer questions on this subject, the Telegraph says it was immediately assumed that he was guilty, and naturalization papers were refused him. The assumption that a Mormon practices or encourages polygamy is not a very violent one, and the only question is as to the right of the judges to refuse naturalization on this ground. The law requires, in addition to other conditions, that the candidate shall show to the satisfaction of the judges "that he has behaved as a man of good moral character, attached to the principles of the United States, and well disposed to the good order and happiness of the same." The Telegraph does not see any immorality or hostility to good order in the possession of a few dozen wives, more or less.

THE Atlantic Cable is reported to have received a fresh injury. The cable laid in 1866 has parted at a distance of about seventy miles from Heart's Content, and this is the fourth accident that has happened to it on the Newfoundland side. In the middle of August, however, a fault in the same cable was discovered at a short distance from Valentia Bay, Ireland. These fractures have not been mended, as the rough weather has prevented the sailing of the repair steamer. The 1865 cable, which was picked up in mid ocean, where it had been lost in the attempt to lay it, has continued to work uninterruptedly, while the 1866 has suffered from five mishaps. The reason assigned for this immunity is, that the 1865 cable was laid in a carefully surveyed channel, while the 1866 cable was laid over rough sunken rocks, and during unfavorable weather. Had the lost cable of 1865 not been recovered, the communication between England and America would have been interrupted for a considerable period of time on five occasions. Surplus cables are stored both at Heart's Content and Valentia, so as to repair any fault as soon as possible.

A FRENCH cattle fair at Roche-Posay, last month, was interrupted by an incident almost as terrible and more extraordinary than the Indianapolis disaster. The stings of a swarm of insects infuriated the oxen, so that they broke loose to the number of six hundred, rushing in all direetions, and trampling more than a hundred and thirty people.

THE GAINS AND LOSSES, OCT., '69.

We append a table embodying a comparative statement of the county majorities given at the October elections in Pennsylvania for 1868 and 1869. The table exhibits also, in parallel columns, the Republican gains and losses at yesterday's polls. Our majority was 9,677 for HARTRANFT last year.

A FULL investigation into the case of the Cuban steamer Hornet, now in possession of the United States Marshal at Wilmington, N. C., will develop some new and interesting features of the proceedings of the insurgents, but will not disclose anything relative to their attempts at diplomacy. Among other matters, it will be discovered that the Hornet was purchased, manned, equipped and presented to the Cubans by a distinguished New York capitalist, who was subsequently prevailed upon to accept a present, of equal nominal value, in Cuban bonds. It is not improbable that certain Government officials may be found to be implicated in the affair, as they are understood to have interested themselves in the enlistment of the crew. But it will not appear, under any circumstances, that Mr. Lemus or any member of the insurgent legation here were interested except in an indirect manner.

INTELLIGENCE from Japan is to the effect that the clerical party is making every effort to secure the expulsion of foreigners from the coutry. The movement has some strong supporters in the press, and numerous strong petitions have been addressed to the Government on the subject One of these documents calls the foreign residents "worms in the lion's belly," and attributes many evil consequences to the introduction of the Christian religion. It is said that the Government has submitted to Parliament the question of driving ont aliens and the best means of accomplishing such a result.

FATAL FALL.

Distressing Accident in Allegheny—A Man Falls from a Building and is Killed.

Yesterday afternoon, about five o'clock, a very distressing affair occurred in Allegheny, resulting in the almost instant death of John Fermorz, a carpenter. Fermorz had been employed to shingle the roof of the Diamond House, a three story brick structure located east of Federal street, lower side of the Diamond, and commenced the work a day or two ago, but left it for another job. Yesterday afternoon he came back with an assistant and received from the proprietor of the house some money to buy materials. After taking a drink of beer he started out apparently in a perfectly sober condition. A few minutes afterwards the saloon keeper heard a shriek, and upon running to the rear of the house, from whence the sound came, discovered Fermorz lying on the pavement in Pine alley running alongside the building. When picked up he exclaimed, "Oh my God!" and closed his eyes. He was taken into the house and Dr. J. C. Sloan summoned, but before the physician arrived the unfortunate man had expired. He only lived about ten minutes after the fall, and was unable to speak after the first exclamation. It seems from the statement of his companion that Fermorz lost his balance as soon as he had set foot on the roof, which was quite slippery, and was precipitated backwards, striking the ground with his back and shoulders. The physician thought death was caused by the concussion. The only evidence of injury was found in his right arm, which was broken in three places between the elbow and the shoulder.

Fermorz was about forty-six years of age and leaves a wife and four small children. He is said to have been a man of temperate, industrious habits, and an excellent workman. About half an hour after the accident the body was removed to the late residence of the deceased, near Goettman's brewery, foot of Trtry Hill, Allegheny.

The Coroner will hold an inquest upon the remains to-day.

Amusements.

OPERA HOUSE.—The audience at the Opera House last night was an unusually large and fashionable one, and Mr. Proctor, assisted by the excellent stock company, entertained them with "Jack Cade, or the Bondman's Struggle." This is one of Mr. Proctor's favorite piecss, and it was rendered in a highly acceptable manner. To-night "Macbeth" will be presented, with Mr. Proctor in the title role and Mr. Chester as "Macduff."

PITTSBURGH THEATRE.—The unusual array of brilliant stars at the Old Theatre, as a natural consequence, attracts large audiences. M'lle. Devere, Viola Clifton, Susie Starr, M'lle. Dulin, Eva Brent and M'lle Diana forms only a part of the bright galaxy which nightly contributes to the amusement of the patrons of the "Old Drury.'.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.—Allen, Pettengill, Delehanty & Hengler's Sensation Minstrels have been drawing large houses at the Academy of Music. The company comprises some of the best "burnt cork" talent in this country, and their entertainments are of a very highly interesting character.

PAREPA-ROSA.—Monday evening the justly celebrated Parepa-Rosa English Opera Troupe will commence a season of six nights of English opera. The repertorie, which we published on Monday, is an exceedingly brilliant and attractive one, and the public may rely upon hearing the great 'Queen of Song," Perepa-Rose, and her only rival, Miss Hersee, every evening.

RICHINGS OPERA.—On Tuesday evening next the Caroline Richings English Opera Company will commence their short season of five consecutive evenings duration, at the Opera House. Yesterday the sale of tickets took place at the box office, and, judging from the anxiety manifested in the securing of seats, and the ackowledged ability of the performers, the season must be a brilliant one. The leader of the compauy, Mrs. Ritchings-Bernard, is a lady of no ordinary talent and acquirements, and will no doubt sustain as heretofore her high reputation. Associated with her are artists of distinguished abilities. Mrs. Richings-Bernard being the pioneer of English Opera, deserves on that account alone the patronage of the public. The operas proposed to be given are popular and select, comprising "Martha," "Bohemian Girl," "Fra Diavola," "Faust," and "Crown Diamonds."

About Furs—The Prevailing Styles This Season—What the Ladies Will Wear the Coming Winter.

Though it is somewhat early to wear furs or even to talk about them, yet the season is close at hand when they will be indispensible as a protection from the chilling blasts of old winter, as well as a necessary article in the completion of the ladies or misses dress. The Mink Sable takes the lead of all other furs in durability and fineness, the finer grades far excelling the Hudson Bay and Russian Sables which it has almost entirely driven out of the market. No other fur presents such a tasty and neat appearance when worn over the fine silk velvet sacque, cloak or circular. For heavier goods to be worn on cold days, what can be more comfortable or better adapted for winter dress than the Astrican and Persian Lamb sacques, collars, and muffs, which are so very fashionable this season? German Fitch, which has so long been a leading fur, but which for a season or two has been somewhat superceded by other goods, has, like the eagle, renewed its youth, and will be more extensively worn this winter than it has been for several seasons. All these goods, together with many other styles, grades and qualities, may be found at the great representative ladies fur house of Wm. Fleming & Co., 139 Wood street, made in the best and most perfect manner in all the newest styles and in almost endless variety. The reader will also find at this extensive and first class house the largest assortment of Siberian squirrel, water mink, Alaska mink, black and brown sables, etc., at such prices that those of the most economical dispositions or most limited means, can be suited. Retail dealers and country merchants can find no better place to obtain their fall and winter stock, as they will find by far the largest and most complete assortment ever offered for sale in this market. Don't forget the place, Wm. Fleming & Co., No. 139 Wood street.

An Excellent Idea.

If you wish to ask a favor of a man never do so unless you are certain he is not at the time in a condition of hunger, To make sure of this a good plan would be to take him to the Continental, Fifth avenue, next door below the Postoffice, and allow him to satiate his appetite on the appetising fare for which the institution is so famous, and after that, ten chances to one, you will have no difficulty in getting him to grant the favor asked, if it be in his power. The experiment is well worth a trial by those in need of assistance.

Coroner's Inquest.

The adjourned inquest on view of the remains of Mrs. Moore, an aged German lady, and her grandchild, Annie Johnson, who were killed by coming in contact with a brewer's wagon, was held yesterday by Coroner Clawson, and before Messrs. Smythe, Brown, Mays, Ferdinand, McCartney and Turtin, as jurors.

Messrs. Robert Moore, son of the deceased woman, John Scott, John Millar, Frederick Becket, Marshall Fowler, Geo. Swan, Dr. Daly and John H. Rehin, the constable who arrested the prisoner, were severally examined, but their evidence disclosed no facts other than those already published.

Dr. Daly's testimony went to show that the deceased came to their deaths by being thrown violently on a quanty of angular stones, and not by their being crushed by the wheels of the vehicle, as previously supposed.

The jurors, in the absence of important testimony, adjourned the inquest until Saturday.

Where to Go.

Mr. J. D. Egan, No. 41 Sixth avenue below Smithfield street, has on hand a rare and valuable collection of books issued by American and Foreign publication houses. The stock embraces volumes on Theology, Geology, Mineralogy, Conchology, together with a large assortment of classical productions, consisting in part of works in the Hebrew, Greek, Latin, Spanish, Italian, German, French and Arabic languages. He has also the latest issues in relation to Mathematics, Architecture, Medicine, Law, &c., &c., which will be found unusually full and complete. In the news department all descriptions of Stationery, of the best quality may be obtained, together with the late magazines and illustrated weeklies. For anything in his line Mr. Egan's establishment is the right place for purchasers.

Fight at the Polls.

Alderman McMasters took the information of Abraham Thayer against Wm. Gordon, for assault and battery. Gordon is a police officer. Thayer alleges while voting at the Third ward polls, he was challenged on naturalization, and while arguing at the window was interupted by Gordon, who, he states, pulled him out of the yard and beat his head against a large iron boiler, on the street outside. His injuries were of such a character that he had to be borne home on a setter, and had to be attended at his residence during the night by Dr. Donnelly. The information was taken at his house. Warrant issued. It is but proper to say that this in only the alligations, the case not having been heard yet.

The Continental.

To-day a superb dinner will be placed on the board at the Continental, next door below the Postoffice, Fifth avenue. Those who have heretofore tested the ability of Mr. Holtzheimer as a caterer to the public tastes, will understand this announcement to mean something peculiarly attractive. Well prepared, served up in clean, neat style, and by attentive and polite waiters, the entertainments at the "Continental" are always of a first class character.

THOU BRINGEST ME LIFE—LUNG-WORT.

One of the truest and most suggestive ideas can be obtained from the caption at the head of this article; for of all diseases which impair human health and shorten human life, none are more prevalent than those which affect the lungs and pulmonary tissues. Whether we regard lung diseases in the light of a merely slight cough, which is but the fore-runner of a more serious malady, or as a deep lesion corroding and dissolving the pulmonary structure, it is always pregnant with evil and foreboding of disaster. In no class of maladies should the physician or the friends and family of the patient be more seriously forewarned than in those of the lungs, for it is in them that early and efficient treatment is most desirable, and it is then that danger can be warded off and a cure effected. In DR. KEYSER'S LUNG CURE you have a medicine of the greatest value in all these conditions. An alterative, a tonic, a nutrient and resolvent, succoring nature and sustaining the recuperative powers of the system, Its beautiful workings, in harmony with the regular functions, can be readily observed by the use of one or two bottles: it will soon break up the chain of morbid sympathies that disturb the harmonious workings of the animal economy. The harrassing cough, the painful respiration, the sputum streaked with blood, will soon give place to the normal and proper workings of health and vigor.

An aggregated experience of over thirty years has enabled Dr. Keyser, in the compounding of his LUNG CURE, to give new hope to the consumptive invalid and at the same time speedy relief in those now prevalent, catarrhal and throat affections, so distressing in their effects and so almost certainly fatal in their tendencies, unless cured by some appropriate remedy. DR. KEYSER'S LUNG CURE is so thorough and efficient, that any one who has ever used it, will never be without it in the house. It will often cure when everything else fails, and in simple cases will cure oftentimes in a few days.

The attention of patients, as well as medical men, is respectfully invited to this new and valuable addition to the pharmacy of the country.

DR. KEYSER may be consulted every day until 1 o'clock P. M. at his Great Medicine Store, 167 Liberty street, and from 4 to 6 and 7 to 9 at night.

THE FALL AND ITS DANGERS.

Animal as well as vegetable life is powerfully affected by the great atmospheric change that takes place in the Fall. But for the flowers, the foliage and herbs of the field there is no help. Their time has come and die they must. It is otherwise with man. For him the means of reinvigoration have been provided by skill and science. To recruit his exhausted energies and fortify himself against the disorders generated by the sudden depression of temperature and the unwholesome exhalations of Autumn, let him tone his nervous system, invigorate his digestion and give edge to his appetite with HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. He may then face the morbid influences of the season fearlessly. The chilling night dews and heavy morning mists will have no power so make him shiver and burn, to affect his liver, to disorder his stomach or his bowels, to rack his joints with rheumatism, or to render any latent element of disease in his system active and dangerous. To the sufferer from general debility, whether constitutional or arising from other causes,—this potent vegetable specific is earnestly recommended. And let it be remembered that physical weakness opens the way to all maladies. Vigor is the chief defence of the human structure against all causes of disease, and HOSTETTER'S BITTERS may be truly pronounced the safest and surest of all invigorants. It is the most genial of all vegetable tonics, and is admirably adapted to the wants and weaknesses of the more delicate sex, as well as to the ailments of men.

By virtue of an order of the Orphans' Court of Allegheny County, dated the 13th day of October, 1869, there will be exposed to public sale at the Court House in the City of Pittsburgh, on Saturday the 6th day of NOVEMBER, A. D., 1869, at 10 o'clock A. M., the following described property of MATTHIAS FELD, deceased, viz:

All those two certain town lots situated in the Manle sub-division of the Town of Braddock's Field, in the county aforesaid, as laid out by James H. Oliver, a plan whereof is duly recorded in Plan Book, vol. 3, page 51, of said Allegheny County Records, and known and marked in said plan as lots numbered one hundred and twenty-five and one hundred and twenty-six, fronting twenty feet each on Talbot street, by one hundred and ten feet deep each, to an alley, and being the same lots which A. H. Miller and wife, by their deed dated August 30th, 1864, and recorded in the office for the recording of deeds in and for the County of Allegheny, in Deed Book, vol. 181, page 396, granted and conveyed to Frank Krome, and which the said Frank Krome and Margaret, his wife, by their deed dated the 24th day of January A. D., 1866, and recorded in the office aforesaid in Deed Book, vol. 246, page 564, granted and conveyed to the said Matthias Feld. Said premises having a two story frame dwelling house of four rooms erected thereon.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, October 13, 1869.

There is a steady improving feeling in Wall street circles. The last remnants of the outstanding contracts of the gold panic are being cleared up, removing one cause of the prevailing distrust.

There appears good reason for hoping that the complications at the Gold Exchange Bank will be successfully unraveled before the closing of the week. Already the large amount of funds held there belonging to Wm. Heath & Co. has been released, and the firm are now settling their contracts on a basis of 135, and the full difference in cash. Their proposal has been accepted by all parties interested, except for a merely nominal amount, and nine millions of contracts will thus be disposed of.

The Lake Shore Directers are still in session, and nothing definite has been divulged in regard to their deliberations, although the street has been treated to some lively rumors, which caused a sharp advance in stock. The principal rumor is that the Board of Directors is to be remodeled so as to give Commodore Vanderbilt the controlling power in the management of the road. It certainly looks very much like a stock jobbing canard.

A remarkable statement was afloat today that the purchase of the Toledo and Wabash stock, by the Lake Shore Co., was ratified by eleven of the Directors on August 18th, being a unanimous vote of all present at that meeting. It is further stated that Legrand Lockwood was called to New York to attend this meeting, and that everything was perfected when he arrived.

The statement that the Erie Railway Company have leased the Albany and Susquehanna Railroad for 99 years appears to have been premature.

Money is easy at 5@6. Sterling quiet at 9@9¼. Gold opened at 130⅝ but touched 130¾, and closed at 130¼@130⅜. Carrying rates 3@5 per cent

Governments are heavy and lower, under free sales by Boston capitalists. Coupons of '81, 119¾@119¾; do. '62, 119¾@120; do. '64, 119⅛@119⅜; do. '65, 119⅜@119⅝; new do., 117⅝@117⅞; do. '67, 117¾@117⅞; do. '68, 117⅝@117⅞; 10-40's, 108¼@108½; Currency 6s, 107¼@107¾.

The Sub-Treasurer bought 2,000,000 at 115 84 100@116,

Southern State bonds are stronger, with an advance to 55 for new Tennessee, and 47½ for North Carolina's special tax bonds; other changes are not important. Missouros 81½.

In the stock market the chief feature was the Lake Shore, which advanced to 88¼ and finally receded to 88⅛. The balance of the railway list is steady in sympathy with the rise in Lake Shore. Miscellaneous and express stocks dull and heavy.

MEMPHIS, October 13.—Cotton weak; middling 24c; receipts 1,020 bales; exports 1,049 bales. Flour unchanged at $6 for single extra. Corn; yellow $1,05; white $1,12. Oats 62c. Hay $27. Bran $24. Pork $34. Lard unchanged. Bacon firm; shoulders 18c; sides 21½c.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, October 13, 1869.

Business generally is quiet and dull, and is likely to continue so for the next two or three days or until the excitement in regard to the election has entirely subsided. The demand for almost everything is light, being confined mainly to supplying wants, while in regard to values, there are no important changes, though the tendency generally is downward.

ASHES—Steady but unchanged—4@4¼ for Soda, and 9 for Pearls.

APPLES—Sales at $1,50@3,00 per bbl, and market quiet with a supply equal to the demand.

BUTTER—Prime to choice Roll Butter is in steady demand, with sales at 35@37. Common Butter is in good supply and dull.

CHESTNUTS—Sales at $8,50@9,00 per bushel.

CRANBERRIES — Unchanged—ranging from $11,00@12,00 per bbl, as to quality.

CHEESE—Is steady with regular jobbing sales at 15@18 cts—the outside figure for prime New York Goshen.

CARBON OIL—Standard brands 28½@29 for round lots, and 30@31 in a retail way.

DRIED FRUIT—Apples are quoted at 9@10 cts. per pound, and Peaches at 10 cts. for bright quarters, and 14c for bright halves.

EGGS—In steady demand at 23 for fresh packed.

FEATHERS—Dull; quoted at 80@85 cents to the trade, and the usual advance for small lots in store.

FLOUR—The flour market continues dull and weak, though there is no accumulation of stock here, as dealers generally have been apprehensive of a decline, and, consequently, kept down their supplies as much as possible. We continue to quote good to choice Western Winter Wheat flours at $6,25@6,75, and fancy at $7,00.

GRAIN—Wheat is quiet and unchanged—but little offering and demand only moderate; we continue to quote at $1,25 for prime red, and $1,30 for white. Rye is arriving pretty freely though there are buyers for Western at $1 and prime Ohio and Pennsylvania. at $1,05. Corn is in limited supply but quiet—prime yellow $1 on track and wharf, and $1,05@$1,07 in store. Oats may be quoted at 48@49 on track, and 51@53 in store. Sales of good to prime barley at $1,25@1,30.

HUSKS—Sales at 2¾@3 cts per pound.

LIME—Sales of Cleveland white lime at $2@2,25 per bbl.

LARD OIL—Extra No. 1, at $1,43@1,45, and No. 2, at $1,05@1,08.

ONIONS—Sales at $2,50@3,00 per bbl, the outside figure for choice.

PROVISIONS—Market steady with a continued fair jobbing demand but prices unchanged. We now quote sholders at 17@17¼; Clear Ribbed Sides, 20½; Clear do, 21; Ribbed, 20; plain Sugar Cured Hams, 23. Lard, in tirces, 20; in half bbls, 20½ in kegs 21. Mess Pork, $33,50.

POULTRY—Sales of chickens at 55 to 65 cents per pair, according to size.

POTATOES—Sales of Peach Blows at 50 cents per bushel. Jersey sweets are still quoted at $5@5,25 per bbl.

SEEDS—The arrivals of flaxseed continue very light and it is held generally at $2,45@2,50. Small sales of timothy seed at $4,25@4,50. No movement in clover seed.

SALT—Is firmer, with sales of car load lots at $1,85 per bbl.

STRAW—Sold in Allegheny market at $12 per ton.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, October, 13, 1869.

The oil market was unusually active to-day, the sales in the aggregate being considerably larger than during any preceding day for some time past. In regard to prices, Crude is higher, while, Refined, strange as it may seem, has undergone but little change. Antwerp at 58½, it is claimed, is equivalent to 34@34½ in New York, but as will be seen, New York has not, thus far, responded, though this is attributed to the stagnation in foreign exchange. It was reported to-day that Pittsburghers were again buying and New York selling, which is reversing the order of things, as, until within the past year, Pittsburgh, being a manufacturing point, has been regarded as a seller and New York, on the other hand, a buyer.

CRUDE.

Market more active and stronger and prices a fraction higher. We can report three lines of 1,000 each, October to December, at 15; and 5,000 and 1,000 seller till December 1st, at 14⅞. Buyer all year, nominal at 15¼, and seller all year at 14¾.

REFINED.

Sale 500 last half October, at 32½; 500 each October to December, at 32½; 1,000 buyer all 1869, at 33; and 500 same delivery and option, at same figure.

AND THE YEARS GO BY.

A child sleeps under a rose bush fair,
The buds swell out in the soft May air;
Sweetly it rests, and on dream wings flies
To play with the angels in Paradise.
And the years go by.

A maiden stands by the rose bush fair;
The dewy blossoms perfume the air:
She presses her hand to her throbbing breast
With love's first wonderful rapture blest.
And the years go by.

Another kneels by the rose bush fair;
Soft sighing leaves in the evening air;
Sorrowing thoughts of the past arise,
And tears of anguish bedim her eyes.
And the years go by.

Naked and lone stands the rose bush fair;
Withered are leaves in the autumn air;
Withered and dead, they fall to the ground
And a fresh cover a new made mound.
And the years go by.

The Woman of the Future.

Novels, says the Pall Mall Gazette, are not more eagerly devoured by the unthinking multitude than the clap-trap written in the present day about women. Pope's famous line—"And fools rush in where angels fear to tread"—can be so fitly applied to no other kind of criticism, and naturally enough, as it requires little else but audacity and proves extremely lucrative, the crop is abundant. One may safely say that a young author's fortune is made who can abuse women in a lively, ill-natured, and authoritative manner. Frivolous, discontented irrational, a creature of whims a devotee of fashion; a victim of ennui, morally, physically and intellectually feeble—such is the woman of the present according to satirists. The marvel is that they wish to see unchanged what they denounce as contemptible. If anything is proposed by which some of these faults must inevitably be eradicated, these consistent critics take affright. Let us keep these angels of perfection as they are, cry they, soft cushions whereon to rest masculine asperities. What would the world be like if womankind were changed from the lovely thing it is? and so on, the inconsequent multitude listening and believing.

Fortunately for all, this kind of writing, like any other form of sensationalism in literature, is of the day only, and will pass away. What has been said so often will tire even the foolish at last, and "we have piped unto you but ye have not danced" will be the lament of these once popular detractors. A great change, moreover, is taking place in public opinion regarding the education of women. The wise are more inclined to weep than to laugh over the frivolities of the sex, and see no reason why this as well as any other element of unhappiness should not be eradicated from society. On one point we imagine alike the serious minded and the scoffer, the reformer and the epigrammatist to be at one—namely, that frivolity is evil and not good. Those who love the truth for truth's sake, and consider each individual life as an important unit of humanity are bestirring themselves to remedy the evil; those who live without any sense of moral responsibility whatever try to hinder the work from pure selfishness or prejudice. To discuss the numerous schemes on behalf of the better education of women is quite foreign to the purpose of this paper. A few of these have already passed from the ordeal of public contempt into the sunshine of popular favor; some still in embryo are too rational to meet with opposition from any quarter. Many others will doubtless be proposed when the world is ready for them. To own in the face of these facts that the women of the future will resemble the woman of the present is to deny the entire sex all capability of moral and intellectual growth. If occupation exercises any influence upon the character whatever—and there is little doubt that it exercises great influence—generations to come will indeed feel thankful for the change. Deprecating as we do the sweeping assertions of clap-trap critics, we are forced to admit there is wide room for improvement. Women are not universally so beautiful, so wise and so good as they might be, and it is to the interests of humanity that they should be beautiful, wise and good. Consider, in the first place, the beauty. The more hopeful look far forward to the time when something of the old Greek feeling for physical perfection shall have revived, and a simpler and more healthful life shall have fitted women to become mothers of a noble race. In this respect we are wiser than of old, but, though hygiene and common sense have done much for ourselves, they have done much more for our children. We of the present generation are the offspring of tight-lacing mothers; but small waists, tight shoes, and other abomination are no longer universal. Dress is much better adapted to out-of-door life then formerly. Etiquette has been relaxed, and our young women enjoy a freedom from physical restraint undreamed of by their grandmothers. Health has ceased to be a monopoly of the other sex. Still the majority of women lead far from wholesome lives; and as beauty is more or less a matter of health, too much can never be said against such abuses of it as are yet in fashion. The worst of these abuses is that they lead to a perversion of taste. Quite naturally the fragile type of beauty has become the standard of the present day, and men admire in real life the lily cheeked, small waisted, diaphanous looking creatures idealized by living artists. When we become accustomed to a nobler kind of beauty we shall attain to a loftier ideal. Men will seek nobility rather than prettiness, strength rather than weakness, physical perfection rather than physical degeneracy, in the women they select as mothers of their children. Artists will rejoice and sculptors will cease to despair when this happy consummation is reached. Let none regard it as chimerical or Utopian. A very little rationalism brought to bear upon daily life would place physical well-being within reach of women of all ranks; and where health leads the way, beauty is seldom slow to follow.

Few will deny that wisdom whose essence is common sense has a large share in determining the happiness of social and domestic life. It is not reasonable to suppose that the various reforms in female education will have proportionate effect upon the female character, and that the women of the future will differ from the women of the present intellectually as well as physically? Steady culture, increased habits of self-reliance, wider views of life, and a keener appreciation of the truth for truth's sake, can but enlarge and elevate the whole sex. The obvious inference is that just as a more healthful mode of existence will invigorate and beautify the bodies of women, so national mode of existence will strengthen and improve their minds. Frivolity, pettiness, inactivity, and other faults of which men most complain will make room for opposite qualities; and who shall aver this to be against the interests of humanity? Perhaps nothing causes more domestic unhappiness than downright silliness. A foolish wife will often bring about as much mischief in her husband's home as a persistetly evil tempered one could do, and with the best intentions in the world, is sure to hinder and hamper him on every occasion. Now silliness is the last stronghold of evil that a good system of education will storm. Just so long as girls are trained to frivolity and irresponsible habits from childhood upwards will they become frivolous and irresponsible wives and mothers. In granting, then, that the women of the future must of necessity inherit a large share of physical and intellectual excellence, we are led to extend the same happy prophecy to the moral faculties. Women often commit grave as well as small errors, not because they are perverse by nature, but because their reason is at fault; and they fail to recognize the proportionate relation of things. Again, habits of subservience induce a cowardly attitude of mind. Very few women have the courage to be individual. Very few women estimate their own lives of any value in the fullest sense of the word. They know well enough that they have some use as wives, mothers, daughters; but that they can have any share in the well being of the world does not occur to them, Self development conveys to their minds something quite apart from the duty of wife, mother, or daughter, while the truth is that self development embraces every other duty. Ill, therefore, does it become those who satirize women, to hinder any efforts made in their behalf, whether educational or social; always remembering this, however, that such efforts are likely to do very little good which tend make of women weak imitations of men.

Edna Dean Proctor.

Personally, Miss Proctor is slightly formed, of about medium height, lithe, graceful, and symetrical; her eyes are large, dark, and expreessive; she has a well shaped head, covered with an abundance of glossy black hair; forehead broad, rather than high; a face full of the sparkle and animation of her spirit, its well formed and regular features constituting its best charm. She is called a brunette, but the word is not very significant in its application to her. Her complexion is essentially Oriental—a soft, clear olive, through which seems to glow the rich, warm blood of Palestine. There is something Oriental, too, in her manner, which, by its unconscious regality, suggests Judith, and Deborah, and Miram; while the sparkle of her conversation, her ready wit, her tact, and that delicate politeness which seems more an intuition than the result of culture, suggested the finished woman of society, Such she is, in the better sense of the phrase; but she is a good deal more. A woman of rare culture, of well-balanced powers, of varied information, kindly, genial, sympathetic; a brave, loyal religious woman, whose sturdy New England nature is broad and firm enough to bear up all the æsthetic culture, and all the poetic vagaries, and all the subtlety of fine manners that may be built upon it. She is still young, with the enthusiasms and aspirations of an unhackneyed nature, and needs only to fulfil the promise contained in what she has already done to win the general recognition of her countrymen.—William H. Burleigh.

The Case of Captain Hall.

Captain Hall stated in his recent "report" of Arctic adventures that he had killed a man employed by him, for mutiny; and now we learn that some friends of the man are endeavoring to cause the arrest of the Captain for murder. Apparently, then, the Captain will be called upon to justify his act. We suppose the allegation of mutiny can hardly justify a homicide in such cases; for the parties were not on ship board, nor does it appear that the man stood in the same relation to the explorer as a sailor stands to a captain of his ship. So far as law sympathizes with the sentiment of the age, its judgment would certainly be with Captain Hall on his own showing; for men have come to regard geographical discovery as a thing to be favored in all ways, and these expeditions would be much discouraged if their heads were prevented from preserving that rigorous discipline upon which the safety of all persons must depend.—New York Herald.

A PARIS correspondent writes: Snails and grapes "come in" together—the former being "fattened" principally in Burgundy, on the leaves of the vine. During the week, a porter entered an omnibus, and deposited his parcel on the floor of the vehicle, and fell asleep. Some time afterward his dreams were disturbed by the female passengers screaming and rushing out, and a summons from the conductor for him to "make himself scarce." The porter had six dozens of those large, slimy, variegated colored snails, with horns always "put out," that one meets with in thousands in the costermongers' carts in the streets, the bag containing them having been wet by the rain, the snails "burst their cerements," and patronized the legs and jupons of the travelers. In the country districts of France, those long black snails that cross one's path at eventide, and not to tread aside from which, and let the creature live, would, in the opinion of Cowper, show a want of humanity, are boiled in sweet milk, and given to consumptive people with as much efficacy as bruised spiders to a black eye. Mr. Jingle's "raw beefsteak" or "cold lamp-post" would be better, en passant. The edible snails are the fellows with their houses on their backs; they are boiled in salt and water, shelled, dried in a napkin, chopped up with butter and "fine herbs," and replaced in their shells, and when roasted, served, or mixed with crumbs of bread, pepper, garlic, salt, mint, are served on slices of bread with "white" sauce, made from oil, the yolks of eggs, and helped with roast beef. The young housewife, having first caught her hair, can now try it.

THE prosperity of the United States is asserted by the London Star to be marvellous, and a comparison is drawn between the amount of property and profits assessed for income tax in 1862 in England, Scotland and Wales, and the assessed value of the real and personal estate in the State of New York in 1869, the difference in favor of England, Scotland and Wales being only $110,000,000. Taking the population of New York State at 3,831,777, as ascertained in 1865, the value of the property held by each individual citizen is $350.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP, SEAWEED TONIC AND MANDRAKE PILLS will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the livor and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens into the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well. This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. Schenck, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivaled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abcesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow, the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparation with the same remarkable success. Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Dr. Schenck, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond street, New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists. mv19:151-d&F

PROPOSALS.

OFFICE OF THE CONTROLLER OF ALLEGHENY COUNTY, PA.
Pittsburgh, October 11th, 1869.

NOTICE TO COAL MERCHANTS.—Sealed proposals will be received at this office until the 21st inst., inclusive, for furnishing to Allegheny county TEN THOUSAND BUSHELS OF GOOD MERCHANTABLE COAL, free from slack and dirt, to be delivered at the entrance to the Court House and Jail on Fifth avenue and Ross street, and in such quantities as the Commissioners or their agent may direct, until the whole shall have been delivered. Payments to be made in warrants drawn on the County Treasurer, when the contract shall have been completed. By direction of County Commissioners.

HENRY LAMBERT,
oc12:p69. CONTROLLER.

PROPOSALS

Will be received at the Engineer's office of the PITTSBURGH AND CONNELLSVILLE RAILROAD COMPANY in PITTSBURGH or CUMBERLAND, until the 1st of November, 1869, inclusive, for SUPPLYING THE CROSS TIES for the entire line of said road, 88 miles, to be delivered from near Connellsville to near Cumberland. The length of each cross tie will be 8 feet between square ends. Thickness 7 inches, and flattened on two opposite sides to not less than 7 inches bearing surface, out of wind and clear of bark, which will be shaved off. Kind of timber, White Oak, Rock Oak or Chestnut, sound and free from wind shake or other defects. Places of delivery, immediately on the road, and not more than half a mile apart, where the ground will permit access and room for piling, which will be done in alternate cross layers of about 100 in each pile. Proposers who cannot deliver at the intervals named may state the place at which they would deliver, and quantities at each place. The number per mile will be 2,112, and whole number about 210,000, including those for side tracks. Timber to be cut when the sap is out, and delivery to be commenced on or before January 1st, 1870, and continued at all delivery; as follows, viz: For the first 10 miles from either end of the road near Connellsville or Cumberland, on or before May 1st, 1870, for each succeeding 10 miles toward the middle of the road one month later, or to the 1st of June, July, August and September, 1870, until the whole number are delivered. Monthly estimates of Cross Ties delivered on the road will be given, four-fifths of the contract price of which will be paid, and the remaining fifth at the completion of the contract.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

THE GAZETTE is furnished in the city for six days of the week for 15 cents per week; by mail, $8 per annum: 3 mos., $2.

Our Readers in Allegheny, on the west side of Federal street, who do not get their paper before seven o'clock in the morning, will do us a favor by leaving word to that effect in our counting room. The tardiness on the part of the carrier is wholly inexcusable as we print and deliver the papers to him in ample time to enable all to be circulated before seven o'clock.

For Sale.—A fine family horse. Enquire at 116 Market street.

Allegheny Councils hold a regular meeting to-night.

The Tenth Ward.—It is reported that the election for Alderman in the Tenth ward will be contested.

An Error.—There was a slight error in our returns of the election in Birmingham. The Republicans elected their entire ticket, except the candidate for Constable.

Dull.—Police news was exceedingly dull through the city yesterday, and will probably remain so for some time to come.

Will be sold at public sale, at Sampson & McNulty's livery and sale stable, Nos. 139 and 141 Third avenue, at 11 o'clock, one horse and buggy in good order.

Official Vote.—The return judges of the several wards, boroughs and townships will meet at the Court House at ten o'clock to-morrow, (Friday) to return the official vote of the county for State and county officers.

Good House and Lot, in Allegheny, at auction. A first-rate property is to be sold on Beech street, on Monday next, at two o'clock. The lot is large and the property desirable. See advertisement on fifth page, by A. Leggate, auctioneer.

Stone Throwing. — Mrs. Margaret Fleming made information before Alderman Thomas against Daniel Grogan, charging him with throwing a large stone through the front window of her house, at an early hour Sunday morning. Warrant issued.

Immolation.—Kate Jackson, colored, stated to Alderman Thomas yesterday that Addison Davis, also colored, had threatened to immolate her. She fears him accordingly. The alderman's police are on the lookout for Addison with a view of preventing the threatened calamity.

Fair and Festival.—The Fair and Festival in the new Episcopal Chapel of Trinity Church, Sixth street, which has been so largely attended and liberaly patronised on Tuesday and Wednesday, will continue to-day and close this evening. Choice dinners and suppers are served, and numerous, useful and fancy articles are displayed for sale at moderate prices. The proceeds are to be expended in furnishing the chapel.

Almost a Fire.—About half past eight o'clock last night the fire department was called out by an alarm of fire from box 27, corner of Grant & Wylie streets. The cause of the alarm was ascertained to be the burning of a bed in Mr. Kelley's house, on Fifth avenue, near Ross street. It was extinguished by the application of a few buckets of water, consequently the department were not called into service. The loss was very trifling.

Now is the time to get good fresh lake fish. Ben Pulpress always has on hand at No. 45 Diamond Market, and at his old popular Twin City stand, Allegheny City, corner of Ohio and Federal street, the very best. Lovers of fresh fish will find it to their advantage to call on him and get their supplies. They will find a superior assortment of all kinds of fish, and will find him polite and courteous, always giving satisfaction to cussomers who may favor him with their patronage. See advertisement.

Horrible Accident—A dispatch received here from Franklin, in this State, states that on Tuesday night at eleven o'clock a signal tower on the Mine Hill Railroad, Broad Mountain, took fire, burning to death the watchman and his family, consisting of his wife and two children. A sister of the watchman jumped from a window and escaped. The fire, which originated at the base, ascended with such rapidity as to envelop the victims before realizing their horrible position.

A False Friend.—Rachel, Harris, had a friend Edward Smith. He is not her friend now, the friendship was broken up when Edward entered Rachel's house and abstracted feloniously therefrom a pocketbook containing nineteen dollars and a half, and a silver sleeve button. This occurred on Monday, yesterday Edward had a hearing on a charge of larcency before Alderman Shore, which resulted in his commitment for trial. The parties are colored, and are numbered among the population of the Eleventh ward.

Murder at Freeport.—Mr. Straub, a young man about twenty-two years of age, died Tuesday morning from injuries received Sunday morning, at the hands of his mother, Mrs. Straub, it appears, is subject to periodical fits of insanity, and Sunday morning, while her son was eating his breakfast, she slipped up behind him and struck him on the back of the head with a coal pick, splitting his skull. She immediately fled, but was arrested in the afternoon of Wednesday and committed to the Armstrong county jail.

A Murderer's Confession.—On our seventh page this morning will be found in full, the confession of Zachary Taylor Hockenberry, confined in the Butler county jail under sentence of death for the murder of his cousin, Annie McCandless. The prisoner, judging from his own words, must be a wicked and hardened criminal who richly deserves the ignominious death in store for him. The prisoner is as great a literary phenomenon as a heartless wretch, judging from his lucubrations, for he spells with accuracy the pollysyllables and wages indiscriminate slaughter on the "small fry."

Serious Accident.—A rather serious accident occurred at the Enameled Hollow ware works of Alborn, Hartje, Wylie & Co., in the Eighth ward, Allegheny, yesterday afternoon. Mr. H. Alborn and Lewis Waugh were engaged in repairing an enamel oven, the arch of which had been broken on the day previous, thereby loosening a large tile, two by three feet, and two inches thick; While the men were in the oven the tile fell, striking Alborn on the head and shoulders, cutting and bruising his severely, and Waug was also struck and severely injured,

THE COURTS.

District Court—Judge Kirkpatrick.

Lefevre vs. Lefevre's executors. This was an action of sciri facias to recover a judgment for the amount of $375, obtained at the November term 1863, which is still on trial. The defence is, that the land devised to Joseph Lefevre is released by laches in not collecting it from the estate of another son, Daniel Lefevere, whose property was sold at Sheriff's sale in 1868. For plaintiff, Mr. John Barton: for defendants, Messrs. Hasbrouck and Christie.

Oyer and Terminer—Quarter Sessions—Judges Mellon and Sterritt.

WEDNESDAY, October 13.—The case of the Commonwealth vs. Michael Gill, indicted for the murder of Andrew Henry, was called, but the parties not being present, it was postponed.

William Thompson, indicted for felonious assault and battery, was indicted and plead not guilty. The jury found a verdict of guilty, and the defendant was sentenced to pay a fine of five dollars and undergo ten days imprisonment in the county jail. He was also required to give bail to keep the peace.

A Vote of Thanks.

To the business enterprise of the Pacific and Atlantic and Western Union Telegraphic Companies was due the credit of the very full, complete and correct election returns spread before our readers yesterday morning. Both companies had wires in City Hall connecting with their main offices, and gratuitously furnished the public and the press with the numerous despatches received. The obliging and courteous managers, Messrs. Gilson and Casselbury, and the operators, have our earnest and sincere thanks for their efforts.

Pittsburgh Nuisances.

Under this head there are numberless causes for complaint, but at present we desire to refer to but a few of the most prominent:

A most grievous nuisance is the congregating of loafers in front of places of amusement. We have called the attention of the police to this matter, and hoped that ere this it would have been abated.

Another great annoyance is the custom of teamsters and drivers of vehicles generally driving so close to each other at street crossings as to detain pedestrians for from five to ten minutes, and in some cases endangering the lives of ladies and children.

Another nuisance to which we have referred to on a previous occasion, is the corner loafing which still prevails to a great extent, but fortunately the cold weather which is rapidly approaching will abate it.

Then we have peanut and fruit venders on every square of every principal thoroughfare in the city, occupying from one-fourth to one-third of the sidewalk with their stands.

There is another and more dangerous nuisance than any of those named, which requires the attention of the authorities, and that is the practice indulged in by fast young men riding and driving fast over streets and crossings, continually endangering the lives of pedestrians, particularly of ladies and children.

There are numberless other causes of complaint, but we deem it sufficient to call attention to the foregoing at present and will revert to the others at some future time.

"If men or women could but find the fabled fountain which is said to restore health, and strength, and beauty, with what eagerness they would rush to drink its waters. It is found in the S. T.—1860—X. The sale of the PLANTATION BITTERS is without a precedent in the history of the world. They are at once the most speedy, strengthening health-restorer ever discovered. It requires but a single trial to understand this.

MAGNOLIA WATER.—Superior to the best imported German Cologne, and sold at half the price. TH.S.T.F.

Linen Cambric Handkerchiefs.—Linen Goods of all kinds. Bates & Bell's.

Chapped Hands, face and all roughness of the skin, certainly cured by using the Juniper Tar Soap, made by Caswell, Hazard & Co., New York. It surpasses all other remedies as it will prevent roughness of the skin if used during cold weather. It is easily applied, avoiding all the trouble of the greasy compounds now in use. It can be used by ladies with the most tender skin, without irritation or pain, making it soft and clear. Sold by the druggists generally. wT

Colored and Black Silks.—Bates & Bell's.
